Conditions:

All materials reproduced using the resources of the Map and Geographic Information Center (MAGIC) are subject U.S. Copyright Law (see "Notice Warning" below). It is the responsibility of the user to determine copyright restrictions and, if necessary, obtain permission from the copyright holder. The user will be held solely accountable for any infringement of this law, and shall assume full responsibility for any legal action resulting from misuse.

The library does not claim to control the copyright for all materials in its various collections. The library has no readily available information concerning the existence and/or whereabouts of copyright holders.

Any reproductions of copyrighted materials made available by MAGIC are to be used solely for non-commercial personal study, scholarship, research, or teaching purposes. These reproductions become the property of the user and should not be reproduced for further distribution, except where there is a reasonable determination of fair use. Users should request only the amount of material needed.

MAGIC, University Libraries, University of Connecticut, and its staff will not be held liable for any infringement of copyright law committed by users of the resources of the University of Connecticut Libraries.

Notice Warning Concerning Copyright Restrictions

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, U.S. Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying or scanning request if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the request would involve violation of Copyright Law.

I have read and understand the "Conditions" and "Notice Warning Concerning Copyright Restrictions."
